The bicycle girl does not wait for Easter before coming out in her spring costume. April 1 marks the beginning of her season. This year's cycling skirts are tucked and plaited like an ordinary alking skirt, but in other respects they vary little from last year's.

The continued popularity of the cir cular skirt is far from being assured. Divided skirts are worn by such leaders of fashion as Mrs. George Gould, Mrs. C. Oliver Iselin, Mrs. Fred Vanderbilt, Lady Curzon and others, but the major-ity of the skirts now in use have the cut and the hang of a golf skirt and reach to within four inches of the
